SUPERVISION RECEIVED

Works under the general supervision of the Lieutenant, and Chief of Police and the direct supervision of the Sergeant who outlines departmental policy, training, and makes work assignments. Procedures for doing the work have been established and a number of specific guidelines are available. The number and similarity of guidelines and work situations requires the employee to use judgment in locating and selecting the most appropriate guidelines, references, and procedures for application and in making minor deviations to adapt the guidelines in specific cases. At this level, the Officer may also determine which of the several established alternatives to use. Situations to which the existing guidelines cannot be applied or significant proposed deviations from the guidelines are referred to the supervisor. Work is reviewed through one-on-ones, observations, and yearly performance reviews. The Supervisor makes assignments by defining objectives, priorities, and deadlines; assists the Officer with unusual situations that do not have clear precedents. The Officer plans and carries out the successive steps and handles problems and deviations in the work assignment in accordance with instructions, policies, previous training, or accepted practices in the occupation. Completed work is usually evaluated for technical soundness, appropriateness, and conformity to policy and requirements.

SUPERVISION EXERCISED: Part-Time Police Officers will usually be given basic patrol and investigation assignments which will limit their supervisory responsibility. However, as directed by the Chief of Police, they may exercise limited supervision over probationary Police Officers during the Field Training & Evaluation Program if assigned as a Field Training Officer, as well as over other non-sworn civilian employees depending upon their assignment. Part-Time Police Officers may assist a Full-Time Police Officer with extra assignments depending on his/her training and experience, and may serve as the initial on-scene Incident Commander until relieved by a Full-Time Police Officer or other ranking superior officer.

COMPLEXITY/SCOPE OF WORK: The work includes various duties involving different and unrelated processes and methods. The decision regarding what needs to be done depends upon the analysis of the subject, phase or issues involved in each assignment, and the chosen course of action may have to be selected from many alternatives. The work involves conditions and elements that must be identified and analyzed to discern interrelationships. The work involves the execution of specific rules, regulations, or procedures and typically comprises a complete segment of an assignment or project of broader scope. The work product or service affects the accuracy, reliability or acceptability of further processes or services.

PERSONAL CONTACTS: Contacts are typically with Department personnel, other Town employees and elected officials, prosecutors, judges, attorneys, school administrators, clergy, business owners, citizens, suspects, and representatives of other law enforcement agencies. The personal contacts are with individuals or groups from outside the employing agency in a moderately unstructured setting. For example, the contacts are not established on a routine basis; the purpose and extent of each contact is different; and the role and authority of each party is identified and developed during the course of the contact. The purpose is to influence, motivate, interrogate, or control persons or groups. At this level the persons contacted may be fearful, skeptical, uncooperative, or dangerous. Therefore, the Officer must be skillful in approaching the individual or group in order to obtain the desired effect, such as, gaining compliance with established policies and regulations by persuasion or negotiation, or gaining information by establishing rapport with a suspicious informant.
